3 Ways to Integrate Poe's Discussions

A (Recommended)

✓ Posts will be added unpublished.

✓ Teaching faculty will move discussions to modules and publish discussions at key points to reach students at the moment of need.

👍 Reach students at the moment of need

👍 Increase in student interaction with Librarians / Poe

👎 Requires some teaching faculty involvement: Moving discussions to key modules and publishing discussions.

✓ Posts will be added published.

✓ Teaching faculty will move discussions into a module or page, so that students have one dedicated spot for research help.

👍 It will always be there, so students will have access to it at key moments; however it's easy to ignore.

👎 Decrease in student interaction with Librarians / Poe

👍 Requires minimal teaching faculty involvement: Moving discussions to one module.

✓ Posts will be added published.

✓ Discussions will stay in the discussions area. Teaching faculty will need to make sure the "Discussions" link is available for students in the course navigation.

👍 It will always be there, so students will have access to it at key moments; however it's easy to ignore.

👎 Decrease in student interaction with Librarians / Poe

👍 Requires minimal teaching faculty involvement: Make discussions public in navigation.
